HEY YOU!

My name is Adair Koralski, and I am the owner of The Learning Tree LLC. I opened the center in 2017 and it has been the more rewarding time of my professional and personal life.

I struggled working mediocre jobs for many years where I was overworked and undervalued, longing for a work environment who would understand career and personal life balance. I wished for a positive administration team to empower me to conquer the world.

At TLT, quality of life and personal growth is very important.

Have you ever worked in a place where no matter how hard you worked, you just never felt appreciated?

Have you ever worked in a place where it wasn't what you knew, but instead who you knew?

Have you had great ideas, but no one had interest in your thoughts or opinions?

The Learning Tree Difference...

I have definitely experienced all of these, and finally decided to build an environment where I knew I was making a difference. I personally invest in creating an inclusive culture with our team. Let's not just work together, but let's laugh, cry and grow together.

We not only want to make children feel special but to be around similar people that thrive to create work environments filled with passion and positive attitudes- and we need the best people to achieve this!

The best way to start and end a day is with a company that is filled with game changers who are ready to be an impact from day 1 to day 1,000.

That is who we are.

Working for us is not your normal career move - instead it's a shift in your life to be exposed to a mission greater than our four walls.
